

U.S. Senator Katie Boyd Britt (R-Ala.)

In 2023, Senator Katie Boyd Britt was sworn in as Alabama's first elected female Senator and the youngest Republican woman ever elected to the U.S. Senate. She is an important voice in Congress as one of the only moms of school-aged kids serving in the Senate. Senator Britt is proud to champion hardworking families as she fights to grow opportunity and preserve the American Dream for generations to come.

In the 119th Congress, Senator Britt serves on the Committee on Appropriations, where she is Chairman of the Homeland Security Subcommittee; the Senate Committee on the Judiciary; the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs, where she is Chairman of the Housing, Transportation, and Community Development Subcommittee; and the Committee on Rules and Administration. Her committee portfolio strongly positions her to fight effectively for Alabama's people, interests, and values as she continues to identify and achieve tangible, meaningful solutions to the pressing challenges facing Alabama and America.

As a member of the Appropriations Committee, one of Senator Britt's top priorities is ensuring we maintain a strong national defense and that our men and women in uniform are the best equipped, resourced, and trained in the world, so that American families remain safe and free. She continues to be a voice for restoring fiscal sanity in our country by spending hard-earned taxpayer money responsibly and responsively. She believes it is imperative that we get back to regular order and end the wasteful spending that has cost Americans in every corner of our country. As Chairman of the Homeland Security Appropriations Subcommittee, Senator Britt continues to make border security a top priority, fighting to defend hardworking Americans and protect our homeland. In January of 2025, Senator Britt's S.5, the Laken Riley Act, was President Donald Trump's first bill signed into law as the 47th President of the United States. This bipartisan legislation is the most significant immigration enforcement and border security-related bill to be enacted into law in nearly three decades.

On the Senate Judiciary Committee, Senator Britt is working tirelessly to bring Alabama's conservative values to the forefront of the committee's decisions. This includes when evaluating nominees for the federal judiciary and safeguarding the God-given rights and individual liberties protected by the U.S. Constitution. As an attorney, Senator Britt is committed to ensuring America's judicial system is run by those who faithfully interpret the law, rather than those seeking to legislate from the bench. This committee assignment also elevates Senator Britt's work to help make America safe once again for families and communities nationwide.

In the 119th Congress, Senator Britt serves on the Senate Banking Committee. She continues to be an outspoken advocate for commonsense consumer protections and fostering a financial environment that promotes freedom, opportunity, and prosperity for hardworking families, small businesses, and retirees across the state of Alabama and our nation. She is a tireless champion for Main Street America and local Alabama small businesses, and fights for policies that ensure they have the opportunity to grow and thrive. As Chairman of the Housing, Transportation, and Community Development Subcommittee, Senator Britt is working to address the affordable housing crisis in our nation and ensure hardworking families can achieve the American Dream of homeownership.

Senator Britt's position on the Rules Committee allows her to uphold the venerated institution of the Senate, as she continues to defend the Constitution, the rule of law, and the Senate's cherished tradition of robust debate and civil discourse.

The proud daughter of two small business owners in Enterprise, Alabama, the foundational values of faith, family, and freedom were instilled in Senator Britt from an early age. Senator Britt holds a B.A. in Political Science from the University of Alabama and a J.D. from the University of Alabama School of Law. A Christian, wife, and mother, faith and family are at the heart of her life. She now resides in Montgomery with her husband, Wesley, and their two children.
